

Global Payments Provider Arms with Retail ID Web As Coronavirus Fraud Incidents Surge

MELVILLE, NY – April 14, 2020– A world-renowned global payments provider is now using Intellicheck, Inc.'s (Nasdaq: IDN) Retail ID Web, having accelerated its rollout of the advanced technology solution in response to the coronavirus pandemic.

Retail ID Web is being used at the company's domestic and international call centers. Call center associates are using the technology solution for authentication of person-not-present applications for charge and credit cards, business credit cards, gift cards, and prepaid cards, as well as non-card products such as loans and membership rewards programs.

Intellicheck CEO Bryan Lewis said there couldn't be a more crucial time for businesses to guard against skyrocketing incidents of fraud. "The coronavirus has necessitated social distancing, and unfortunately criminals don't take time off for a pandemic, they just move online," explained Lewis.

"We are seeing increased interest in Retail ID Web, which gives businesses an instant, affordable solution. It requires no integration allowing businesses of any size to immediately begin authenticating people in person-not present transactions," concluded Lewis.

The global payments provider is a multinational financial services company widely recognized as one of the largest credit card issuers. It provides innovative payment, travel and expense management solutions for individuals and businesses of all sizes. This is the third major financial services company to integrate Retail ID Web into its call center operations.

Retail ID Web is a proven frictionless, real-time technology solution that authenticates identification documents, allowing companies to quickly and seamlessly respond to business and consumer financial services product requests, while deterring losses associated with fraudulent applications. Retail ID Web is a standalone web application that requires no system integration. The technology solution engages the customer's mobile device to capture identification documents for authentication.
